HARDING URGES COAL BOARD

RAIL SETTLEMENT COMING TODAY?

Big Union Chief Believes Agreement Will be Reached

DEFINITE PEACE PLAN UP

Program to End Strike Before New York Conference

NEW YORK — (Associated Press)

Belief that definite agreement for settlement of the shop crafts strike would be reached today was expressed by Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers shortly before one o'clock on leaving the conference between the railroad men and executives.

After having attended the session for two hours, Mr. Stone left for the apartment hotel where shop crafts leaders are quartered for a conference. He said he did not expect to return before three o'clock.

The general impression prevailing around the conference chamber at the noon recess was that the conference had come down to cases and that some definite program was under discussion. In this connection were recalled dispatches from Washington, quoting Senator Watson of Indiana, as outlining a program for settlement of the seniority question which he said had been planned over the long distance telephone.

Mr. Stone, before leaving for the conference with labor leaders, implied he had a definite proposition to put before them.

Neither Howard Elliot or Julius K. Ruteschmidt, members of the executive committee would comment on this when they left the chamber, asserting that anything Mr. Stone said was up to him. As for themselves, they declined to say whether any definite program was under discussion or whether agreement had been reached on any part of it.

U. S. CONTROL OF FUEL RECOMMENDED BY PRESIDENT IN SPEECH TO CONGRESS PROPOSING REMEDIES DESIGNED TO CURE THE NATION'S INDUSTRIAL ILLS

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press.) — President Harding today told congress and the nation that he was resolved to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and sustain the right of men to strike.

In asking for coal strike legislation the president said the administration had sought earnestly "to restrain profiteering and to secure the rightful distribution" of coal but was without legal power to control prices.

Government "by law must and will be sustained," the president said, "no matter what clouds may gather, no matter what storms may ensue, no matter what hardships may attend or what sacrifice may be necessary."

Stating that sympathetic railroad strikes had developed and impaired interstate commerce seriously, the president said that trains deserted in the western desert "had revealed the cruelty officials could have no authority to negotiate until after their annual convention.

A short time prior to the explanation of the working agreement the mine workers invited a conference with the operators in the central competitive field, covering the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and in spite of the union declaration of the government's informal suggestion for the conference five months before, the government informally but sincerely, commended the conference, but it was boycotted by certain groups of operators, and the coal mining controversy ended in the strike April 1. It was instantly made, nation-wide, so far as the organized mine workers could control, and included many districts in the bituminous field where there was neither grievance nor dispute, and effected a complete stoppage of the production in the anthracite coal field. It is to be noted that when the suspension began large stocks of coal were on hand, mined at wages higher than those paid during the war, there was only the buying impelled by necessity and there was a belief that coal must yield to the post-war readjustment. When the stocks on hand began to reach such diminution as to menace industry and hinder transportation, the government, on June 1—when the strike was in its second month—initiated by the government in the hope of expediting settlement. None of these appeals for settlement were wholly unavailing. The dominant groups among the operators were insistent on having district agreements; the dominant mine workers were demanding a nation-wide settlement.

The government being without authority to enforce a strike settlement in the coal industry could only volunteer its good offices in finding a way of adjustment.

Accordingly, a conference of the coal operators associations and the general and district officials of the United Mine Workers was called to meet in Washington on July 1. The designation of representation was left to the officials of the various organizations and there was nationwide representation, except from the non-union fields of the country. Before the joint meeting I expressed the deep concern of the country and invited them to meet at a conference table and end the dispute between them. The conference did not develop even in hope. Operators were asking for their district or territorial conferences; the workers demanding national settlement on the old basis.

HOPELESS SITUATION
Appraising correctly the hopelessness of the situation I again invited both operators and workers to meet with me and tendered a means of settlement so justly inspired that it was difficult to see how anyone believing in industrial peace and justice to all concerned could decline it. In substance, it called on the operators to open their mines, on the mine workers to resume work at the same pay and under the same working conditions as prevailed at the time the strike began.

In turn the government was to create at once a coal commission, or two of them, if preferred by all parties to the dispute, so that one could deal with the future coal situation, the other with the problems in the anthracite field.

The commission was to be instructed to direct its first inquiry to the rate of wages to be paid for the period ending next April 1, and then to enter upon a fact finding inquiry into every phase of the industry, and point the way to avoid future suspensions in production. The dispute was all induced the suggestion of a fact-finding commission. The anthracite operators promptly accepted the entire proposal. The mine workers refused to resume work under the arbitration plan. The majority of the bituminous operators filed an acceptance but a considerable minority declined the proposal.

GOVERNMENT PROTECTION
Under these circumstances, having no authority to demand acceptance, the government had no other course than to invite resumption of production under the rights of all parties to the controversy.

You'll Get Coal Only When Big Shortage Is Overcome

BY ALBERT APPLE

PITTSBURG — (SPECIAL)

How about a coal shortage this winter? Here are the facts:

Total production of bituminous coal from the first of the calendar year to Aug. 6, is estimated at 207,606,000 net tons, by the United States Geological Survey.

This is only about 24,000,000 tons less than was mined in the corresponding period of last year. Working near capacity, American mines in the past have managed to mine 24,000,000 tons of bituminous coal in less than two weeks.

STOCKS LOW

At the beginning of the coal strike, it was estimated that about 65,000,000 tons of bituminous coal were above ground and in storage. Coal men call this the "reserve stocks."

The country is consuming about 8,000,000 tons of bituminous a week. Production by non-union mines during the strike has averaged about 4,000,000 tons a week.

This made a drain of about 4,000,000 tons a week on the stored coal. Inasmuch as no acute coal famine has developed, it is now believed in the coal industry that fuel reserves were larger than estimated. The bottom of the bin is generally in sight now.

THE SHORTAGE

When the coal strike started, many union mines were practically shut down because they could not compete with the cheaper labor of the open-shop mines.

The general opinion among coal men is that the strike has "created sufficient market," or shortage, to insure union mines a market for their coal as well as non-union coal until the end of next March. They are basing this belief on the assumption that union mines can be producing at capacity by the middle of September.

It is customary, at the end of the year, to have a carry-over or coal reserve of 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 tons.

MURDERS WOMAN, SHOOTSELF

Ohio Farmer's Wife Stabbed to Death by Boy

COLUMBUS. — (Associated Press.)

Doctors are momentarily expecting the death of David Steel, 17, farm hand, this morning, due to a self-inflicted revolver wound yesterday after he had stabbed Mrs. Hannah K. Hess, 76, to death on her farm near here. Attending surgeons say there is no hope for Steel.

The body of Mrs. Hess was found in the kitchen by Mr. Hess and his three children upon returning from a shopping trip to Columbus.

Steel first told officials that he had seen a negro standing over the body of Mrs. Hess in the kitchen. He said he yelled at the intruder, who, pulling a gun, shot him in the abdomen and fled. When finding that Mrs. Hess was dead, he crawled upstairs.

Breaking thru the lad's vague answers, Prosecutor King obtained a confession from Steel that he had stabbed Mrs. Hess to death, after becoming dissatisfied with his lot at the farm. He said he had to do too much work for the pay he was receiving. He blamed Mrs. Hess, who he said was paying him only from $3 to $5 per week and that he decided to kill her.

Sixteen knife wounds were found in her body.

Lead Men in Opposing Dry Act, Literary Digest Poll Shows

NEW YORK — (United Press)

Women voters are wetter than the men, the poll of the Literary Digest on prohibition showed today.

Women's votes tabulated to July 21, showed the following totals: For strict enforcement, 7,367; for modification, 8,575; for repeal, 5,525.

Women favored the soldiers' bonus by a vote of 11,557 to 9,879. Summary of 708,895 ballots, men and women combined, gave these results:

For strict enforcement, 271,954; modification, 290,172; for repeal, 146,679.

HARD COAL SCARCE

A shortage of anthracite coal is inevitable. From the first of the year to the end of July, anthracite production totaled only 23,800,000 tons, against a normal output of around 50,000,000 tons.

COKE SITUATION

Despite the strike, production of beehive coke so far this year is a trifle larger than a year ago. July output was 453,000 tons.

Output of by-product coke in July was 2,486,000 tons. This was only three per cent less than the average for 1920, the year of greatest production.

THE NORTHWEST

As usual, the coal shortage attacks the northwest hardest. Shipments of cargo coal up the Great Lakes for the season to July 30 compare as follows:

1922 ..... 4,408,067 tons
1921 ..... 13,699,762 tons
1920 ..... 7,049,797 tons
1919 ..... 13,478,878 tons

KEEPING IT HOME

One result of the coal strike may be to cost America its coal export market, temporarily. The coal will be needed at home too much to ship it abroad.

Bituminous exports last year totaled over 20,000,000 tons. Exports have fallen to about 80,000 tons a month. This curtailing of foreign shipments has helped powerfully to counteract low coal production and exhaustion of stocks.

THE RAIL-KEY

Coal men say that a fuel shortage will depend largely on the railroads' ability to move the coal after it is mined, granting a return to full-time mine operations.

The mines apparently could produce enough coal to fuel the country thru the winter by the strike of its peak, if the railroads could move 12,000,000 tons a week without getting congested.

BREAK IN HEAT IS DUE TONIGHT

Unusual Features of Torrid Wave Are Dry Thunderstorms

COLUMBUS. — (Associated Press)

— Ohio's first and only real heat wave of the summer, experienced the past four days, is due to come to an end tonight or tomorrow, according to the U. S. weather bureau here. Thunderstorms, followed by a drop of from eight to twelve degrees tonight or tomorrow, are forecast to be followed by fair and moderate weather.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the summer in Ohio, according to the records of the weather bureau. Several cities reported a maximum temperature of 98 degrees, while the lowest official maximum was 93.

Following are some of the maximum temperatures reported yesterday:

Columbus 94, Cincinnati 94, Toledo 94, Canton 94, Circleville 97, Findlay 98, Norwalk 98, Waverly 97, Bucyrus 95, Granville 98, Napoleon 95, Wilmington 97.

One of the unusual features of the heat wave was the report of "dry" thunderstorms from Ohio to Iowa. Several such storms were experienced yesterday in Ohio, one at Columbus and one at Cincinnati.

A "dry" thunderstorm consists of lightning and thunder, with some wind but little or no rain. Such storms are of short duration and have but temporary effect on the atmosphere.

The present heat wave has extended over the middle west from Nebraska to Pennsylvania. Cooler weather was being experienced today in the Mississippi valley and is due to reach Ohio tonight or in the morning.

SLAIN BY BANDITS

Baltimore Man Shot and Robbed of $7,000 Payroll

BALTIMORE, Md. — (Associated Press.) — William B. Norris, secretary-treasurer of Hicks, Tass and Norris, Inc., builders, was shot to death at Park and Madison-av today by unidentified bandits, who robbed him of the company's payroll amounting to approximately $7,000.

Frederick W. Kuethe, a bookkeeper of the company, who accompanied Mr. Norris, was beaten into insensibility by the robbers who escaped in an automobile.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

SIoux FALLS, S. D. — Four prisoners, who escaped from the state prison here last night after stabbing Deputy Warden Arthur Muechow, were still at large today.

Warden George T. Jameson, kidnaped by the convicts, was found in a church near Crooks, S. D., from which he escaped last night unharmed.

MINE OPPOSITION COLLAPSES

Ohio is Almost Solidly Signed up for Peace

NORMAL WORK IN WEEK SEEN

General Resumption at Early Date Is Forecast

COLUMBUS. — (Associated Press)

— Further acceptance by individual members of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange is expected today of the agreement reached at Cleveland early this week between the coal operators and the miners' uni chiefs.

The final collapse of organized opposition to the terms of the Cleveland parley was announced by President Lee Hall of the Ohio miners, with the statement:

"It has been decided to leave the signing to individual members."

Today all but three of the more important operators affiliated with the exchange in the Hocking fields have signed the agreement. They are: The New York Coal Co., the Ohio Collieries Co., and the Pittsburgh Co. President Hall said he confidently expected the New York Coal Co., and the Ohio Collieries Co. to sign today.

TONNAGE REPRESENTED

The decision to permit individual settlements was reached at a meeting of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange held here Thursday. The signing of most of its members means that annual tonnage of approximately 16,000,000 tons, controlled by them, will be open to use by the state.

President Hall gave out a statement saying that "the state is virtually signed up solid, every mine in the eastern Ohio district, except property operated by the Ohio Collieries Co. having signed and the Northern Central district of Cambridge, Tuscarawas and others being solidly in line."

That all the mines which have come to terms will be operated on a normal basis within a week was the prediction of "President Hall" today. He said that reports had reached him that some coal had been loaded Thursday near Glouster and Nelsonville, in the Sunday Creek valley.

ANTHRACITE SITUATION

PHILADELPHIA. — (United Press.) — Peace by Monday in the anthracite war was predicted today, with miners back in the pits on the old wage scale. Final agreements may be signed at this afternoon's joint meeting.

As miners and operators, who met here yesterday and brought the hard coal dispute to the verge of solution, held separate meetings before resumption of the conference, Thomas J. Kennedy, district president Number 7, made these optimistic announcements:

John L. Lewis, miners' chief, expects settlement today or tomorrow, he let it be known.

The matter of wages has been settled. The biggest stumbling block is passed. Question of arbitration of the entire matter in dispute and of length of contracts to be signed, still impede peace.

The miners at yesterday's conference refused to consider a contract of less than a year's duration, and some officials held out for one or two or three years. Operators who have agreed to let the men go back to work at the old wage scale, effective before April 1, this year, still insist upon the matter being taken to arbitration immediately for adjustment.

Much was accomplished at the opening session, Kennedy declared. "We may strike a stumbling block" the union president said. "But up to now, we've been going along at great speed. Everything looks bright for early peace."

Lewis was known to hope the men might go back to the mines by the first of next week.

WEST VIRGINIA MEETING

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — (United Press.) — Ramifications in the coal strike controversy today were centered in West Virginia where operators were conferring with the miners union.

The Kanawha Operators Association, which normally employs 15,000 men was meeting with C. Frank Kenney, president of the West Virginia United Mine Workers in an effort to call a temporary truce in the strike which is still in effect in this state.

Kenney is silent as to the proposals he will make.

However, the mine owners are certain to make a decided stand against "check-off" and "closed shop" clauses in any agreement.

Also not more than one-third of the miners are working in this district, the mine have been turning out nearly half normal production.

Meanwhile, a split in the northern West Virginia Operators' Association had occurred. Mine owners were making separate agreements with union heads. Some of the operators had refused point blank to sign up with the union, with the mines working full force, producing more than normal tonnage. There are 300 mines under control of the northern association.

With all the peace parleys came a discordant note in the grumbling of some of the miners, whose former employer had refused to sign up with union officials. A march on Morgantown was threatened.

U. S. Control of Fuel Recommended by President In Speech to Congress Proposing Remedies Designed to Cure the Nation's Industrial Ills

Pledges All Power of Government to Maintain Transportation and Sustain Labor's Rights—Proposes Amendment to Esch-Cummins Rail Law

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.) — President Harding today told congress and the Nation that he was resolved to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and sustain the right of men to strike.

In asking for coal strike legislation the president said the administration had sought earnestly "to restrain profiteering and to secure the rightful distribution" of coal but was without legal power to control prices.

Government "by law must and will be sustained," the president said, "no matter what clouds may gather, no matter what storms may ensue, no matter what hardships may attend or what sacrifice may be necessary."

Stating that sympathetic railroad strikes had developed and impaired interstate commerce seriously, the president said that trains deserted in the western desert "had revealed the cruelty and contempt for law on the part of some railway employees who have conspired to paralyze transportation."

The president in an address to congress in which he recommended specific legislation designed to cure the nation's industrial ills, declared with emphasis that the right of employers and employees alike to establish their methods of conducting business, to choose their employment and determine their relations with each other must be recognized.

PROPOSED COAL CONTROL
The president declared a national investigation for constructive recommendations as to the conduct of the coal industry to be immediately established. A permanent commission to advance fair wages and conditions.

Immediate legislation to establish temporarily "a national coal agency," with necessary capital to purchase, sell and distribute coal also was urged by the executive.

Saying that the Esch-Cummins act in establishing the railroad labor board was inadequate, being with little or no power to enforce its decisions, the president recommended action to make the boards decisions "enforceable and effective against carriers and employees alike."

Other legislative recommendations were for better protection of alien in some instances had not held their forces to law observance, Mr. Harding said "there is a state of lawlessness shocking to every conception of American law and order," and announced his intention to invoke laws civil and criminal, forbidding conspiracies hindering interstate commerce and requiring safety in railway service.

SHOCKING CRIME
In discussing the coal situation the president referred to what he termed the "shocking crime at Herin, Pa., which so recently shocked and horrified the country" and added the incident was "butchery of human beings, wrought in madness."

Other than the amendment of the Esch-Cummins law to make the railroad labor board's decisions enforceable, the president did not recommend any legislation to deal immediately with the railroad strike.

Asserting that the striking union in some instances had not held their forces to law observance, Mr. Harding said "there is a state of lawlessness shocking to every conception of American law and order," and announced his intention to invoke laws civil and criminal, forbidding conspiracies hindering interstate commerce and requiring safety in railway service.

RIGHT OF WORKERS
In declaring positively for the right of men to work, the president said that in both the coal and railroad strikes this right had been "denied by assault and violence" and in some cases winked at by local authorities. He added:

"It is fair to say that the great mass of organized workmen do not approve but they seem helpless to hinder. These conditions cannot remain in free America."

"Surely, the threatening condition must impress the congress and the country," the president went on, "that no body of men whether limited in number responsible for railway management or powerful in numbers and the necessary forces in railroad operation, shall be permitted to choose a course which so imperils public welfare."

MENACING SITUATION
The text of President Harding's address in part follows:

It is manifestly my duty to bring to your attention the industrial situation which confronts the country. The situation growing out of the prevailing railway and coal mining strikes is so serious, so menacing to the nation's welfare, that I should be remiss if I failed frankly to lay the matter before you and at the same time acquaint you and the whole people with such efforts as the executive branch of the government has made by the voluntary exercise of its good offices to effect a settlement.

The suspension of the coal industry dates back to April 1, when the working agreement between mine operators and the United Mine Workers came to an end. Anticipating that expiration of contract, which was negotiated with the government's sanction in 1920, the present administration sought, as early as last October, conferences between the operators and miners in order to facilitate either a new or extended agreement in order to avert such suspension of production when April 1 arrived. At that time the mine workers declined to confer, the operators were agreeable, the mine workers excusing their declination on the ground that the union

LIMA MADE COAL CENTER FOR 10 COUNTIES

DIRECTOR MAY BE STATIONED HERE

No Information Received by President Administrator

PART OF STATE FUEL PLAN

Orders May be Received From Columbus Soon

Lima has been made headquarters for the fuel distribution in 10 counties. They are Paulding, Putnam, Hancock, Van Wert, Hardin, Mercer, Auglaize, Shelby Logan and Allen.

This is a part of the division of the whole state into districts for the supplying of coal during the shortage. Twelve districts in all have been formed.

It is understood to be a part of the state handling of the fuel distribution and is preparatory to the taking over of all coal produced in the state or shipped into it.

Information lacking

H. L. Brockmeyer, fuel administrator for Lima at the present time, has received no information from the state as to the methods to be employed in the distribution of coal.

If all coal is to be handled out of Lima for this district it is possible that a special agent from the state administration will be stationed here, Brockmeyer said.

Further information is expected from Columbus within a day or two outlining the plan to be followed and the organization which will be put into effect in Lima.

SEWAGE REPORTS ARE EXPECTED

City Officials Hope for Early Action by Expert

With the one month test of the direct oxidation sewage disposal plant at Allentown, Pa., nearly completed, city officials are daily expecting some word from George A. Johnson, sewage expert, in charge of the survey.

Immediately at the close of the test run Johnson will compile reports as to the results obtained. Copies will be sent to the city of Lima, Trenton, N. J., state of New Jersey and to the Ohio board of health.

It is expected that the efficiency of this method of sewage disposal will be determined in such a manner as to eliminate all further discussion regarding its merits.

Should the claims of the owners of the patents be supported by the findings, the state board of health is expected to approve the Lima plans and bids will be asked at once.

It is hoped that the reports will come thru in time, if favorable, to ask for bids and start work on the plant this fall. If this is done the plant will be completed in the fall of 1922, city officials say.

THEFTS ADMITTED BY YOUNG BOYS

Confess to Police After Being Picked up Here

Confessions gained from three boys taken into custody by police Friday, clear up many petty robberies and small crimes committed within the limits of the city, officers declare.

The boys gave their names as William Sheets, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheets, 3 Union-st., Clarence Rhoades, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rhoades, 726 S. Pine-st., and David Ally, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ally Sr. 927 Arch-st.

The youngsters were taken captives by Dick Watkins, motor cop, at the rear of Crossley's bike shop, 208 S. Main-st., where he observed them playing with a curble fire.

He took them to headquarters and quizzed them. They admitted entering two box cars Friday morning, in search of fruit and apples. They also admitted entering M. J. Marks store, 438 S. Main-st., and Gulets Second Hand store, 121 W. Spring-st.

The boys implicated other lads whom they say have engaged in petty thievery with them. All three youngsters taken into custody said they have been spending the past few nights sleeping in a moving van. Sheets and Ally were reported lost by their parents, Thursday.

All of the boys are said to have been before juvenile authorities for previous offenses.

127 MEN ARRAIGNED IN WEST VIRGINIA COURT

WHEELING, W. Va. — One hundred and twenty-seven men indicted on charges of owing out of the state, were arraigned today before Judge J. B. Somerville, at Wellsburg.

Seventy-eight of those indicted were charged with first degree murder. A total of 216 indictments were returned, those not charged with murder being accused of conspiracy to burn, destroy and injure.

The 78 men charged with murder were taken from Wheeling jail to day, marched thru the streets closely guarded, carrying their possessions in baskets and bundles, and entrained for Wellsburg.

Following arraignment, prisoners were making efforts to secure bonds. Attorneys for the prisoners planned to begin at once a fight for a change of venue.

Baggage Men of City Obey Order But Get Business

There are more ways than one of killing a cat—and of evading a city ordinance, baggage men believe.

Since the passage of an ordinance by the city barring baggage and express wagons from the parking space around the court house a new method of getting business and still complying with the law's requirements has been devised.

Baggage men are congregating on various corners near the court house ready for business. Their wagons are either parked in side streets near the court house or in some other section of the city.

Friday an express wagon was parked near the northeast corner of the courthouse but its driver was stationed, whip in hand, near the southwest corner of the intersection of North and Main-sts.

A trace has been established between the police department and the baggage men and no more arrests will be made until all cabs now in the common pleas court have been settled, C. A. Bingham, city manager said Friday.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE

Fear of Sun Causes Ohioan to Jump in River

DAYTON — (Associated Press) — Fear of the sun is believed by relatives to have prompted Mrs. Lloyd Hunt, 39, wife of a deputy county clerk, to end her life by jumping in the Stillwater river at the historic "Bessie Little" bridge early today.

Relatives of the woman say that ever since an operation she has been afraid of the sun. She would confine herself in her room all day. She was in the habit of taking long walks, starting about midnight and always returning at daybreak.

It is believed she got too far from home early today and was caught on the bridge just as the sun broke thru the clouds.

MERCURY CLIMBS

Reaches 95 Mark—No Prostrations Reported

Temperature for Friday reached a maximum of 95 degrees, according to Solar Refinery thermometers. This is one degree higher than Thursday's maximum.

Minimum for the day was 74 degrees at 4 a. m.

Both the maximum and minimum for Friday approach the high mark of heat for the season.

No prostrations have been reported in Lima, the advices from surrounding towns indicate extreme suffering is prevalent.

BODY BROUGHT HERE

Body of Earl Hartzler, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hartzler, former residents here, was taken to the home of J. Huber, 623 Linden-st. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Huber home. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery.

PRESIDENT URGES COAL BOARD

with the assurance of government protection of each and everyone in his lawful pursuits. This fact was communicated to the governors of all coal producing states, and with two exceptions assurances of maintained law and order were promptly given.

Little or no production follows. The simple but significant truth was revealed that, except for such coal as comes from the districts worked by non-organized miners, the country is at the mercy of the United Mine Workers.

Governors in various states reported that their operators and miners had no dispute and were eager to resume production. District leaders informed me that their workmen were anxious to return to their jobs but that they were not permitted to do so.

Hundreds of wives of workmen have addressed the White House, beseeching a settlement, alleging that they knew no grievances and that there is an unending story of appeals of relief where necessity or suffering were compelling, where a mere expression of need ought to find ready compliance.

At every stage, the government has been a just neutral regarding wage scales and working contracts. There are fundamental evils in our present system of producing and distributing which make the wage problem difficult. In the bituminous coal fields are vastly more mines than are requisite to the country's needs and there are 200,000 more mine workers than are needed to produce in continuous employment the country's normal requirements.

MINE PROBE ASKED

Interrupted transportation, sorely taken employment, the failure to develop storage against enlarged demands and inadequately carrying, all these present problems bearing on righteously adjustment demand constructive solution. Because of these things, because of the impression in many cases of unjustifiable profits in the industry, and because public interest demands investigation and demands the findings of facts be given to the public. I am asking at your hands the authority to create a commission to make a searching investigation into the whole coal industry, with provision for its lawful activities and the bestowal of authority to reveal every phase of coal production, sale and distribution.

The necessity for such a searching national investigation with constructive recommendations is imperative. At the moment the coal strikes are clearing, but unless we find a cure for the economic ills which affect the industry and therein find a basis for righteously relationship, we shall be faced with a like menace, situation on next April 1 on the expiration of the wage contracts which are now being made.

PROFITING PROBLEM

The administration has earnestly sought to restrain profiteering and to secure the rightful distribution of such coal as has been available in this emergency. There were no legal powers for price control. There has been cordial co-operation in many fields, a fine revelation of business conscience stronger than the temptation to profit by a people's misfortune. There have been instances of flat refusal.

I recommend immediate provision for a temporary national coal agency, with needed capital, to purchase, sell and distribute coal which is carried in interstate shipment. I do not mean that all interstate coal shall be handled by such a federal organization; perhaps none will be necessary but it will restore its capital to the public treasury and will be the instrumentality of guarding the public interest where private conscience is insensible to a public need.

The public menace in the coal situation was made more acute and more serious at the beginning of July by the strike of the federated shop crafts in the railroad service—a strike against a wage decision made by the railroad labor board, directly affecting approximately 400,000 men. The justice of the decision is not for discussion here. The decision has been lost sight of in subsequent developments. In any event, it was always possible to appeal for re-hearing and the submission of new evidence and it is always a safe assumption that a government agency of adjustment deciding unjustly will be quick to make right any wrong.

The railroad labor board was created by congress for the express purpose of hearing and deciding disputes between the carriers and their employees, so that no controversy need lead to an interruption in interstate transportation.

It was inevitable that many wage disputes should arise. Agreements had mounted upward, necessarily and justly during the war upheaval, likewise the cost of transportation, so that the higher wage might be paid. It was inevitable that some readjustments should follow. Naturally these readjustments were resisted. The administrative government neither advocated nor opposed. It only held that the labor board was the lawful agency of the government to hear and decide disputes, and its authority must be sustained as the law contemplates. This must be so whether the carriers or the employees ignore its decisions.

The law creating the labor board is inadequate. Contrary to popular impression it has little or no power to enforce its decisions. It can impose no penalties on either party regarding its decision. It can't halt a strike, and manifestly congress deliberately omitted the enactment of compulsory arbitration. The decisions of the board must be made enforceable and effective against carriers and employees alike. But the law is new and no perfection of it by congress at this moment could be helpful in the present threatened paralysis of transportation.

DEAD ANIMAL NUISANCE IS PROBED BY SUTTER

Alleged indiscriminate dumping of garbage and depositing of dead animals on farms at the outskirts of Lima may be given a hard jolt by District Health Commissioner J. J. Sutter, who began a series of inspections Friday on premises occupied by Charles Schirmer, Findlay-nd.

Complaints have reached him, Sutter declared, that dogs, cats, horses and carcasses of other animals are hauled to the outskirts under an agreement by which the hauler gets a small sum for each.

LONG SKIRT SWISH 5 PICTURES IN CONTEST

Flapper Race is Declared as Dying Out

NEW YORK — (United Press) — The flapper race is dying out, simply because men refuse to marry scantily garbed girls.

It's the swish of long skirts that sways men into marriage. In the interests of matrimony—the ultimate aim of every girl—modern femininity is bundling up so it can again mystify man into a trip to the altar. When girls by self concealment cease to be mysterious, men no longer want to marry them. Andre Tredon, famous French psychologist, said this when asked to analyze the change of style back to long skirts.

Women found they were matrimonially undesirable, and that there are things that attract men for more than semi-nudity.

"Clothes have been long a second sexual characteristic of women, who change them as men's interest wanes. "The flapper, therefore, to escape spinsterhood, is returning to the good old age of femininity mystery. In the future, something will be left to the imagination."

LID IS CLAMPED ON

Hip Pocket Liquor Barred From New York Cabarets

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Prohibition agents made a tour of the white light district along Broadway early today and decorated the cabarets and midnight clubs with yards of crepe serving notice that from now on no hip pocket liquor is to be allowed. Proprietors of the jazz palaces were told they would be prosecuted if any patrons were permitted to drink their personally conducted wet goods in their establishments.

Cabaret owners declared that this order, plus the one o'clock dancing ban, will mean an end of New York's so-called night life.

It's Time to Think About Fall Apparel!

-and here are authentic Frock, coat and suit styles

And Now Autumn Millinery

Here are hats which bear the unmistakable imprint of the artistic designer. The soft flattering lines, the subtle blending of color, exquisite effects in garniture, and the richness of the fabrics all bespeak the high character of the Fall Hats,—priced within the means of every patron. A Few minutes spent in our Millinery Department will repay you.

The Bluem Millinery Shop—Fourth Floor

Sweaters for the First Days of Autumn

must be dark—such as navy with narrow Roman stripes, or deep dull green. A conservative showing on the third floor. We are promised much more than is now to be seen in sweaters. But perhaps yours is still in the yarn. In that case you might choose anything from the exotic Irvington design in five shades to the seal browns and sea greens in dark mixtures. Ask to see the new shades in the Art Department.

Bright Wool Scarves to blend or match

You will be without style without a scarf this Fall. Everybody is planning on wearing them. Not only in the new and conservative shades but in orchid, pink, and light heather mixtures. Not silk but soft wool, with fringed ends. There are some to match the sweaters too. You'll enjoy the whole selection, just looking or buying.

It's Wise to choose Corset then Gown

Especially when you have such a selection as at Bluem's. There are corsets here for every figure in several of the better known lines. Binner which is planned from Paris,—Gossard which has been the "open sesame" to graceful appearance for the well dressed woman for years, and R. & G. for the girl.

The Fall Models

Pajamas are Tailored

just like the men's. The jackets are straight, with V necks trimmed with bandings. The materials are both sheer and practical, in soft lingerie shades of orchard, pink, blue, and the new buff. Bandings contrast. Long or short sleeves. $2.25 and $2.50 suit. And pajamas suggest bloomers such as the new ones we have just received of cotton or batiste in lingerie shades, $1.25.

Batiste Nighties, 1.50

This particular selection of batiste nighties in buff, pink, orchid, blue, etc., and hand embroidered in contrasting tones is a very popular one. But some choose the cotton crepe gowns in unusually pretty patterns and colors,—$1.50 too.

The Tailored Mode Preceeds the Informal--

--In Frocks

The new street frocks for Fall are long—with a charming air of carelessness in their long lines. Braid and silk stitchings accentuate the dark twills. There are some Printz tailored ones among the first—and several of the new Taffeta Crepe—an exclusively Fall 1922 fabric.

$35.00 up

New Printz-Tailored Suits--

Never have we shown suits that met with such approval as Printz Tailored business and street suits. The predominating material is Poiret, but the finer twill cords, and a few of English cheviot are shown this year. The English material is fashioned into a delightfully businesslike suit at $39.50—long soft lines, without a trace of trimming. The Poiret twills and twill cords are richer, with conservative braidings and touches of self material that are all that can be allowed on correctly tailored garments. Here in every size from 34 upward. Several special numbers for stout figures.

The Mannish Sport Coats-

Will take the eye of youth. They are English in material—in pattern, in cut and in trim. Large roomy pockets, unexpected fullness, wide collars that are a part of the picturesqueness of the coat when open, and a part of its warmth when fastened are only a few of their boasts. They are both attractive and practical—you may wear them in the early fall and through the entire winter season. With or without fur collars.

$19<sup>50</sup> up

Sport Silk that sold up to $6.00 a yard--

These are the most popular sport silks of the season. In stripes, patterned and plain. Many of the shades may be worn through the Fall season. The qualities, colors and popularity of these silks would warrant their still selling at the former price. You will appreciate this opportunity upon sight of them.

Beginning at 8:30 a. m. these silks are - - -

$1<sup>49</sup> yd.

Chats--

with the Personal Shopper

You May Think

that coats, and frocks, and suits, and blouses are the most important pieces of one's apparel—but it's really very easy to choose a becoming number of any of those garments. But it is difficult to find those just the right shade, and gloves that will look stunning with your suit. And a purse is always a question.

Now Here--

the question is greatly simplified. That is done by carrying those of every shade—and always to match the new colors of cloths. Have you yet heard of Cannon, Creole, Turtle and Biscuit? They are the new shades in hosiery. Cannon is deep dull grey, Creole a dull brown, Turtle a medium grey, and Biscuit a golden brown. And the gloves—such shades!

For Every Costume

there is a glove to match or blend. Leatherettes, chamoisettes, and double silks. They are all long, and either embroidered or stitched. There is not one feature about them that is borrowed from last year—they are wholly new! Some lined with contrasting shades. Just spend a few moments choosing your gloves here this Fall. You'll find that you're better pleased.

The Newest Blouses--

--The Dark Crepes

have found a place in the affection of well-dressed women that will not soon dwindle. It is because they possess all of the charm of a frock. Madame Flanders contributes many striking models with unusual outstanding flowers, with motifs fashioned of duvetyn, leather, or yarn. The lines, too, are charming,—long, soft and draped. Prices are very reasonable this year.

Tailored Shirts For Sport, Street and Business Wear

In dimities or pongee. And especially clever style is the plain stripe dimity, with Honeycomb collar (doubly tucked). It may be had in either Tuxedo or Bramley front. Then a plain tailored shirt is very popular, too, and a man-tailored pongee. Whether formal or informal it can be found here from

SEVENTH WEDDING AGE IS 72

Woman, Married 5 Times Happily, Once Divorced

CHOOSES CONFEDERATE VET

Consideration Key to Successful Mating She Says

DEAUVOIR, Miss. — (Special) —

At 72 Mrs. Mary Ann Sanders is on her seventh honeymoon. Her seventh spouse is W. S. Sanders, Confederate veteran of the Civil War.

"People ask me why I married at this advanced age," she says. "My answer is that people are not supposed to live alone. Then why not marry regardless of your age?"

"Six of my seven marriages have been happy—all anyone could expect. My secret? Just this: Be loving and kind and considerate and devoted to your husband. Most husbands will meet you half way."

A girl of today makes as good wives as girls of the past. Modern dress is a right.

"But sometimes I fear too much worldliness and freedom is having a malign effect on womanhood and I hope soon to see the pendulum swing back to the days of chivalry."

Mrs. Sanders was first married at 15 to Robert H. Harrison, 27, Confederate veteran. That was in 1865.

Four years later he died.

TEEN CHILDREN

A year later the widow, now a girl of 20, married A. B. Moorehouse, 25, who also had fought in the Confederate forces. She became the mother of 10 children. After 12 years of married life, Moorehouse died of typhoid fever.

A year later, at 23, she married William Newald, German farmer, ten years her junior. Newald died of pneumonia a year later.

Having been a widow one year, she married E. F. Hartwell, a planter, 12 years younger than she. She lived happily with him for 18 years. Two children were born. Then Hartwell and one of the children were slain in a feud.

Mrs. Sanders' fifth marriage was at the age of 53. Her husband, Joseph Howard, another Confederate veteran, was 65. Differences between husband and wife arose and the marriage ended in divorce.

At 62 Mrs. Sanders married Ed Metcalfe, only 28. Metcalfe died, making Mrs. Sanders a widow for the fifth time.

"I can't say which of my husbands I loved the most," Mrs. Sanders says. "They were all good men save one. Mr. Sanders is kindly and affectionate and I know we shall be very happy."

PROSECUTION OF COPS FOR KILLING BIRDS BY U. S. OFFICERS INDICATED

That prosecution of members of the Lima Police department for the slaughter of song-birds is to be renewed is indicated by action taken Friday before United States Commissioner Charles W. Long.

Affidavits charging William F. Koller, 522 S. Scott-st., and Boyd F. "Dick" Watkins, motorcycle cops, with shooting birds were obtained by three game wardens. Charles Hanes, game protector, of Shawnee, signed the complaint.

The officers stated that they would not ask for warrants at this time, as the affidavits are to be forwarded to federal authorities as a report on the matter.

At the time that the state case filed against the two policemen was dismissed a week ago, Hanes declared he would report the matter to federal authorities.

OHIO COAL WILL ARRIVE SOON

Prices Uncertain, However—Much Depends on Rails

Coal from the Ohio mines, which are now opening up, is expected to arrive in Lima early next week. Production will hardly get started in time to bring the coal in this week, coal dealers say.

With mines already operating and others ready to open as soon as cleaning up work is completed and cars are spotted, the situation in Lima has become less tense.

That enough coal to take care of present needs with perhaps a little for domestic consumers will be available within a week was the opinion of H. L. Breckenridge, fuel administrator, Friday.

This does not mean that Lima will be able to obtain all the coal that might be wanted. Breckenridge points out there will be so many demands for the first coal to be mined that each consumer will receive only a little.

Prices for coal are not yet certain. Much of the coal will sell at $3.50 a ton at the mines. With a $2 freight rate the coal should sell slightly over $6 a ton undelivered, it is believed.

Some dealers will probably be able to negotiate contracts for coal at prices lower than the $3.50 maximum and the consumer benefit thereby. Prices will be uncertain until production is fully re-started, it is said.

Fuel oil prices continue high with the latest quotations from Oklahoma running around $1.30 a barrel.

CHILDREN GET ESTATE.

Mary M. Harter, Delphos, was appointed administratrix of the estate of Frank Harter, Delphos, when the latter's will was probated Friday. Value of the property left will approximate $1,400. Heirs who will participate in the division of the property are four children, Leola, 19; Lucilla, 17; Lewis, 12 and Norman, 6.

ROAD DYNAMITED, TRAIN WRECKED

Trolley Cars Crash Into Excavation Caused by Explosion

NINE PERSONS ARE INJURED

Smashup Scene Near Buffalo—Line's Employees on Strike

BUFFALO.—(United Press.)—

Nine persons were injured last night when a three-car train on the Niagara Falls high speed line ran into an excavation caused by a dynamite explosion three miles north of the city. The high speed line is an interurban trolley operating between Niagara Falls and Buffalo. This is one of the lines belonging to the International Railway Company, the employees of which have been on strike for over seven weeks.

The injured are:

Mrs. Anna Smith, Philadelphia, William H. Lockard, Philadelphia, Mrs. William H. Lockard, Philadelphia, Mrs. Irene Smith, Philadelphia, Samuel Spry, Philadelphia, Mrs. Julia Giesen, Beverly, Mass., Mrs. Bertha Startt, Baltimore, Md., J. S. Startt, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Laura Mack, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

The condition of none is considered serious.

About 30 other passengers were shaken up.

PASSENGERS IN PANIC

The first car of the train skidded 100 feet across the tracks after the accident, blocking both tracks. The second crashed into the first and third hit the hole and turned on its side. The passengers were thrown into a panic.

Paul H. Olding, who resided at Elwood, the scene of the wreck, said he heard an explosion as he was cutting a late lunch. Deputy Sheriff Fred H. Grist, who was on the scene shortly after the accident, found a bag of dynamite at the side of the northbound track and 20 more sticks along the southbound rails. He also discovered a piece of rail thrown 500 feet from the roadbed.

Grist later found a farmer who had seen four men "cutting" around the tracks, as he put it. They later sped away in a touring car.

President H. G. Tully, of the International Railway Company, with other officials, was on the scene a few minutes after reports of the wreck reached the international office.

Samuel M. Spry, Philadelphia, a passenger on the train, was severely cut and bruised. Interviewed early today, he could not give a coherent account of the accident.

Lo said:

"There was a terrible panic in the car. I was taken to a hospital where I was treated and then taken to a hotel."

CHANGES HIS NAME SO FRIENDS CAN SPELL IT

Inability of the neighbors to spell or pronounce his name caused Herman Wittkofski, Bluffton, to change his name.

He is now and henceforth to be known as Herman DeWitt, by an order obtained in probate court Friday.

The two names have the same meaning in their respective languages. Relatives in other states assumed the name of DeWitt, and addressed Wittkofski under that name.

The postmaster at Bluffton, however, ruled that Wittkofski was not DeWitt and refused to let Herman have such mail.

YANK WINS FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

A. B. Bielaski, Kidnaped in Mexico, Allowed to Leave

MEXICO CITY.—(Associated Press.)—

Departure for the United States last night of A. Bruce Bielaski, brought to a close an episode which has held public attention here and north of the Rio Grande for several weeks.

Bielaski, who was the wartime chief of the department of investigation bureau, was the central figure in a kidnaping which occurred on Sunday, June 24, near Cuernavaca and which since then had been under investigation by Judge Roberto Quiros of the Cuernavaca court.

Mexico City newspapers charged Bielaski with having planned his abduction and around their assertions were centered the investigations by the Mexican authorities.

Last Friday he went to Cuernavaca and upon his brief testimony was absolved absolutely from all blame for his abduction but was requested to remain in Mexico until all points were cleared up. This has been done and Mr. and Mrs. Bielaski left last night for New York, going by the way of Brownsville and Houston, Texas.

It is believed that he will go to Washington within a short time to give a report of his experiences in the state department. Although the case has not yet been definitely settled, it is generally believed that the court will find it one of ordinary banditry.

WEDDING PARTY MEMBER SLAIN

His Car Commandeered by Police to Chase Robbers

GANG FIRES ON PURSUERS

Companion Wounded in Attempted Arrest at Shaker Heights

CLEVELAND.—(Associated Press.)—

Louis Radovitz, 21, prominent in amateur boxing circles as "Battling Raddy," is dead. He was shot and killed late last night while riding in an automobile commandeered by Shaker Heights police in an effort to capture four suspected robbers. Joseph Radovitz, his brother, driver of the commandeered car, narrowly escaped a similar fate.

With another man and a young woman, they were returning from a wedding. Patrolman Harry Hromadka saw an automobile bearing a Michigan license tag in front of a Shaker Heights residence. A man at the wheel told him he was letting the machine cool off and the officer went on.

After he had gone a few yards he noticed three men run from the house and jump into the car. The patrolman halted the Radovitz car and the fugitives' machine was overtaken.

When the officer called to the fugitives to halt they fired four shots. One went thru the boxer's heart and another crippled his brother. Another machine was then commandeered but the men escaped.

DISPUTE OVER BODY

CLEVELAND.—(Associated Press.)—

Unless Detroit officials release the body of George Harrison, a wealthy retired painting contractor of East Cleveland, today, legal action will be brought against them, Charles Melbourne, undertaker, announced following the second postponement of the funeral, which was to have been held this afternoon.

Harrison's body was picked up in Lake Erie about three miles from Fairport, Ohio, by the crew of the steamer William Snyder and taken to Detroit. George Harrison, Jr., declares the Detroit authorities refused to give up the body until a certificate is obtained from the coroner of Lake-co, Ohio.

"I doubt if the coroner of Lake-co has heard anything about my father's death, so how could I be expected to get a certificate from him?" young Harrison asked.

Harrison disappeared August 7, from his yacht, the George H., which he and W. H. Sherman, his engineer, were taking to Fairport to have called.

177 NEWSPAPERS CLOSED DOWN

German Press is Declared as Facing Extermination

BY SOARING EXPENSES

in Publishers' Tax or Subsidy is Urged

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press).—German papers are facing extinction, according to a report from the German department today from Commercial Attache Herring in Berlin. Enormously increased costs of operation, he said, together with the impossibility of increasing subscriptions and advertising rates sufficiently to cover the losses, have brought about the closing of 177 newspapers and already 177 newspapers are closed down their plants permanently.

Printers' wages, the attache reported, have increased about 2.100 per cent over the pre-war levels, the price of newsprint paper has advanced more than 600 per cent, the cost of machinery, printers' ink and other supplies has jumped about 40 per cent over pre-war rates and the great increase in the postal, telephone and telegraph service has severely affected the publishers.

On the other hand, he said, the subscription price of German newspapers has had an average increase of only about 1.900 per cent while it has been impossible to advance advertising rates to compensate for present operating costs without affecting the volume of business.

TAX CUT SUGGESTED

The suggestion has been made that the government reduce taxation on the newspaper industry or that the press be subsidized thru the Minister of Education to prevent "a detrimental effect upon the nation of the loss of an active and efficient press service."

"It is, of course, difficult," Mr.
Herring said "for German newspapers to maintain adequate foreign staff, particularly in high exchange countries. Unless the conditions improve, the German people may eventually become largely dependent upon the foreign news service of the Entente and other foreign countries for their international news."

Big Road Program Under Way
in This District

600 MEN ARE AT WORK NOW

Lima to Receive Much Benefit
From Improvements

Allen-co has 32 and a fraction miles of state aid roads under construction, and more than 120 miles are building in eight northwestern Ohio counties, Grover F. Clements division engineer declares.

Clements has charge of these roads and travels over the division each week to observe progress made by contractors.

Cost of the road work in Allen-co will run around $900,000. Originally the roads were estimated to cost at least $100,000 more than this amount. Competitive bidding, however, created savings on the cost of construction.

Road building and maintenance on state roads in northwestern Ohio, Clements says, will amount to more than $3,500,000 in 1932. Six hundred workmen are employed in Allen-co and about 2,500 in the district.

Difficulty is being experienced in obtaining material on account of the railroad strike, but it is hoped that all contracts will be finished on time despite the shortage.

Allen-co has one of the largest road building programs in the state this year, and a big mileage is scheduled for 1933.

Orders for making surveys for next year are expected within the next 30 days, Clements says.

Within two years, Lima will be connected with the county seat of every adjoining county by a paved road. The most important stretch of paving being built this year is along the Dixie Highway from Bluffton thru Lima to the Auglaize-co line.

The paving will close one of the unimproved gaps between Toledo and Cincinnati.

WOMAN BACKS STEPHENS IN MISSISSIPPI RACE

JACKSON, Miss.—Miss Belle Kearney who ran comparatively poor in the state-wide Democratic primary for the nomination as United States senator, has issued a public appeal to "everyone who can conscientiously do so" to support former Representative Hubert D. Stephens in the second primary September 5, against Senator Vardaman.

With a few scattered opponents to be heard from, Vardaman's plurality over Stephens is given in unofficial returns in the first primary as about 7,500.

RIGHT IS RESTORED

COLUMBUS—The certificate of authority of the Pittsburgh Tin Plate and Steel Corporation of Marquette, which was revoked Wednesday by Director of Finance Davis, taking away its right to do business in the state, has been restored to the corporation upon instructions from Governor Davis.

The certificate had been cancelled because the company had not paid its tax fee due last December, violating the ninety day grace period.

POPE KEEPS TAB ON THE COOK

His Holiness Checks up on Expense Accounts

PUTS BAN ON COSTLY FOOD

Servant "Has His Head Washed" When He Disobeys

ROME—(Associated Press)—A fresh and searching wind of inquiry and reorganization is blowing thru the Vatican with the advent of the new pope, and some of the old established dependents of the palace, place, who are very numerous, find it altogether too bracing to be pleasant. Pius XI comes of a practical and prosperous bourgeois stock, and feels himself perfectly competent to look into even the smallest details of the vast organization of which he is the head.

The pontiff, while adhering on state and ceremonial occasions to all the pomp and splendor which is traditional in the Basilica of St. Peter and the Vatican Palace, desires that his private life be ruled by a truly apostolic simplicity and frugality, and he is reported to have said that he intends to spend money rather on the propagation of the faith than on the restoration or beautifying of buildings and monuments. CHECK ON ACCOUNTS In Italian households, humble or aristocratic, the cook buys all that is necessary for the feeding of the family, and good housewives usually go thru the cook's accounts every day in order to keep check of them. It appears that His Holiness does the same. It is related that the other day a fowl, price 20 lire (rather less than a dollar) was provided for the pope's supper. For some reason he did not eat it, and orders were given that the following day the cook make chicken croquettes for lunch. The croquettes duly arrived, but when the accounts were looked thru in the evening, it was found that another fowl, price 20 lire, had been charged in the cook's book. The cook was called in and "had his head washed," which is the quaint Roman expression for getting a good scolding, and the pope told him he has no use for any servant who was not strictly honest and accurate in his charges. It appears that some of the administration of the huge Vatican Palace has been carried on in a rather haphazard fashion. For instance, thousands of lire were often paid for overtime work to the regular staff of workmen who receive weekly or monthly wages.

A TRUE RAT STORY

Auburntown, Tenn., 6-22-22. Dear Sirs: Mr. Robert T. Donnell of Auburntown, Tenn., came in our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats. So I sold him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on six biscuits that night and the next morning he found fifty-four big rats. And the second night he put out four more biscuits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventeen more rats, making a total of seventy-one rats in two nights, and there were lots more that he did not find.

This is about his rat tale but, nevertheless, it is so. Just thought would write to let you know that your rat paste is good. Respectfully, KENNEDY BROTHERS.

Ham Prices Are Down

Ham—Boiled, Baked (Hot or Cold), Broiled, or Fried—is one of the most appetizing and savory foods that the market offers.

The wholesale price of ham is fifteen to twenty per cent lower than it was six weeks ago.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in an announcement dated June 19, 1922, in referring to vitamins found in meat said, "Various cuts of meat were tried, and in every instance pork was found to be relatively rich in vitamins. Pork tenderloin, fresh ham, smoked ham, and pressed boiled ham were tested and the results were much the same with all of them.

Swift's Premium Hams are always of a uniform high standard of quality, regardless of price. A special cure of sugar and salt, and smoking over hardwood fires impart a flavor that has made "Premium" Ham the world's standard.

Summer time is ham time. Insist on having "Swift's Premium"—see the blue identification tag.

THINKS EGOTISM WORLD SAVIOR
"Salvager of Hearts, Homes"
Explains His Religion
MUST MAKE SELF SUPREME
Promises Health, Wealth and Friends to Followers

CHICAGO — (United Press) —
All is serene at the Life Institute today, despite charges that the grand potentate of the flock extorted thousands of dollars from women followers.
A J. Moore, former oil stock salesman, bond salesman, advertising man, salvager of "hearts and homes," lives up to his preachings of psychic serenity.
I don't give a damn for these charges," he told the United Press.
"What the hell is an idea worth until it is gone thru the courts?"
Moore is surrounded at the Life
Institute Building here by a corps of ardent supporters—mostly middle aged married women.
The new religion is a step higher than Christian Science Moore says.

PROMISE TO FOLLOWERS
"Follow my lead and I will give you health, wealth, friends, peace and glory," is the basis of the new religion which Moore says will sweep the world.
Briefly, the life-institute teaches supreme egotism as the savior of the world.
"Every one must be the 'I' in himself. He must worship God first, thru the following of his ideal. Second he must worship himself and make himself supreme. Next, he must love his neighbor. If he does this, he will find happiness."
Moore was arrested on a warrant signed by W. W. Talbot, who charged that the "healer of hearts and homes" extorted several thousands of dollars from his wife and had virtually wrecked his home.
The followers of the "healer" are divided in their support, altho the large majority are solidly against the leader. Moore predicts that the case against him will be dropped before it is called next Tuesday.

ANOTHER COP SEEKS FAME BY PRODUCING BIG PEACH

"Bill" Laughlin, traffic policeman who handles the flow of vehicles at High and Elizabeth-sts., entered his bid Friday morning, for first place among the experts of horticulture in this city.
Laughlin dropped into headquarters carrying a peach of enormous proportions. He hadn't weighed it, being of the opinion that one look at it was sufficient to convince anybody that he is the champion gardener.

Laughlin says he raised the peach in his back yard. He claims the tree from which it was plucked, and which he gives especial care, is producing many more like it.
The peach is larger than a baseball.

Thin run-down folks should find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take MASTIN'S Vitamon—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking MASTIN'S Vitamon regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight. "pep," energy and improved appear-sary lime salts all of which Science says your body must have to keep you strong, vigorous, well-formed and fortified against the germs of disease. By increasing the soothing power of what you eat MASTIN'S Vitamon helps supply just what your body needs to feed the shrunken stomach, strengthen internal organs, clear the skin and renew shattered nerve force without upsetting the stom-

ANTI U. S. MOVE IN PHILIPPINES

New Movement for Freedom on Island

EMULATE INDIAN IDEA

Would Use Practical Boycott Against America

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON (Special)—While the administration is struggling in an effort to solve the complicated industrial situation arising from the combined railway and coal strikes, the question of Philippine independence again has forced itself to the front.

An altogether new turn has been given to the problem by the announcement in Manila that a non-cooperationist movement, similar to that of Mahatma Gandhi in India, will be started in an effort to end American rule in the islands.

This is proposed by Vincento Llanes, former member of the Philippine House of Representatives and member of the recent mission to the United States.

WHAT MOVEMENT MEANS
If the non-cooperationist movement is carried out in the Philippines in the same way as Gandhi directed the revolt against British rule in India before he was jailed, it will mean:

THAT natives will refuse to serve in American military forces.

THAT they will refuse to send their children to American schools.

THAT they will buy no foreign products.

THAT they will refuse to hold political positions under the American administration.

Administration leaders hoped the cold water poured on plans for Philippine self-government by President Harding when a special mission on Philippine independence visited him in Washington a few months ago had no quenched the flame it would take years for it to burn brightly again.

But present indications are that preparations for an intensive campaign for independence are going forward even more energetically than before.

Altho official belief in Washington is that Llanes lacks the qualities of leadership necessary to enlist a large following in his proposed movement and that the Filipino people lack the religious fanaticism that caused the Indian people to flock to Gandhi by the millions, they nevertheless think any serious organized non-cooperationist movement in the Philippines might play havoc with American commerce there.

LEADER LITTLE KNOWN
Little is known in Washington of Llanes' organizing ability or the personal magnetism he may be able to carry into a campaign for active non-cooperation.

Then the cur dismissal of the plan for independence received by the mission has made the ground fertile for active anti-American propaganda, however, is frankly admitted.

Before Llanes' election to the Philippine House in 1920 he had been farmer, lawyer, court clerk and justice. He was active in the Popular Independence party, afterward the Nacionalista party. He is a teacher of law and started a public library in his home town of Lao.

The father of the non-cooperation or passive resistance plan of freeing dependent nations in Mahatma Muhammad Karanchand Gandhi, a Hindu, now a political prisoner in the Bombay presidency, India.

Gandhi taught his Hindu followers that refusing to buy from, serve under, or even recognize the existence of the English would make the British position in India untenable much more quickly than armed resistance.

PRESSING BUTTON RECORDS WIND

New Device is Installed for Benefit of Aviators.

SHOWS CHANGE IN CURRENTS

Bright Sunshine Also Registered at Washington

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press) — A new aid to aviators in the vicinity of Washington is offered by the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department, in the announcement of the installation on the 700 foot radio tower at Arlington, across the river from this city, of wind recording devices for the benefit of those primarily.

A mast has been erected on the tallest of the three towers on which is a six foot wind vane, which, by electrical connections, records in the office every vagary of the wind currents at that altitude. The records, it is said, will be of exceptional value to airmen in showing the more constant currents of the upper air.

The recording device not only shows the direction of the wind, and keeps a continuous record of the velocities at all hours, but indicates the velocity by pressing a button. By counting the number of buzzers per minute the velocity can be read at any time.

RECORDING METHOD

The continuous record of wind velocities at 700 feet above the ground will be material aid to aerial navigation over this territory, especially when rigid and non-rigid airships are in flight. Formerly, in order to get the wind velocity and direction, small rubber balloons, hydrogen filled, were liberated, and bearings taken on them at intervals of one minute which showed the speed and direction of the winds that drifted the balloons at each altitude. The height of the balloons at the termination of each minute of flight was predetermined by the weight of the rubber and the amount of ballast lifted. The balloons were usually inflated so that they would rise at the rate of 200 meters per minute. When the sky was clear and cloudless they were often followed, thru the instrument to heights of 10,000 feet or more.

RECORD OF SUNSHINE

There are often times when the fog, low clouds, rain or snow interferes with the observation of the sun so that the advantage of having wind instruments on high towers is apparent. While the pilot balloon method is still widely used elsewhere, in the near vicinity of Washington prospective fliers need only telephone to the recording office to receive the reading at any moment.

The triple register, as it is called, also makes a continuous record of sunshine that strikes the tower. The purpose of the instrument is to determine whether or not there is sunshine or cloud above any low hanging clouds or fogs that may prevail near the ground.

Continuous records at 700 feet above the ground level will be compared with those taken at various altitudes at the ground level, one of which is at the foot of the Arlington tower, and will be useful in determining the increase of wind with altitude. The data will also be of value to engineers, the department says, in using the readings for the determination of wind pressure on structures.

To the Board of Education

GENTLEMEN: We can't all play golf. A large number of my people like tennis. The facilities for this game are none too great at the best, but I have been informed that the courts at the college grounds are in such condition that it is near impossible to play on them. What can be done about it?

LIMA BEANE.

To Chief Lanker

DEAR TOM: It wasn't my fault that I just beat you to the suggestion about the information sign at headquarters to direct strangers. Nevertheless, I am glad you had arranged for it and will have it up in a day or two.

LIMA BEANE.

The Playgrounds Idea

DEAR KOMMISH: Of course, I swam in a gravel-pit and played shinny in a field. But they don't do it that way in these days of 25c shaves and 15c shines. The Kiddies must have a place to play. There is Fawcett Park, 'tis true. Bless Fawcett park and A. L. White who made it possible. But I have a big industrial section where the people raise babies as in the good old days. This industrial section lies south of the river rubbish, and runs east a far distance. From Main to Collett-st, houses are thickly set and many kiddies live and breathe and should exercise. The best exercise in all the world, giving golf its fairest due, is swimming.

The City of Lima—my Lima—should buy Hoover park, or that part of it which includes the old lake. It should be bought now, and paid for sometime. The great South Side has no park; no playground for Little Nellie and Buster Billy. I ask you to consider my suggestion.

LIMA BEANE.

To Parents

MY FRIENDS: Any of you who have not registered births of your children who are about to begin school should do so. It may save much confusion later.

LIMA BEANE.

To Fred Wallace

DEAR FRED: It is with regret that I bid you farewell as you leave for Lancaster to take up your new duties. I appreciate the fine work you have done at my playgrounds this summer. The field and track meet at the fair grounds yesterday indicated the success of your efforts there. I thank you on behalf of my hundreds of kiddies.

To Everyone

FRIENDS: We have all heard much about the strikes we are passing thru. Many of us have become panicky, possibly beyond reason. I agree with anyone concerning the crisis brought about by the rail and mine walk-outs, but there's another side.

So far this year we have had only 75 strikes. In 1921 we had 225 and in 1920 we had 200. In both of these years more men were thrown out of work, more money was lost and more harm done than this year.

We are justified in becoming alarmed when our two great essentials—coal and transportation—are affected. The thought I would leave, however, is that while we may be, in fact are inconvenienced, things are coming out right in the end; that our present trouble will not be fatal to our country.

To Manager Bingham

DEAR CLARENCE: I slipped in on a second-hand ticket and heard your talk before the Rotary club. It was a manly tale, and your stock shot up ten points in my estimation. Your sewer pipe deal was worthy the expurchasing agent of the Garford's best manipulation of salesmen. Your idea about paving Main-st next year has my approval, except I wish it were this fall.

I also thank you for taking care of Clifton-folk and believe it will save the cullud vote which was going against the Kommish, because they always stopped improvements at Woodlawn. And that new fire-bus of Chief Mack's looked nifty in the Welfare parade. For the drill-sergeant I could not say as much. He walked like sitting was aging him. You are doing things, Clarence.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

EXOPHTHALMIC GOITER

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Have you ever noticed persons whose eyes protruded from their sockets? Ten to one, these persons had what is known as exophthalmic goiter.

This is the most serious form of goiter. The simple form seen in girls in their teens is accompanied usually by enlargement of the neck and an operation on such a goiter is not fraught with great danger.

However, the operation on a goiter which is accompanied by rapid pulse, tremor and great nervousness, is dangerous.

Generally the first symptom noticed in the case of exophthalmic goiter is a rapid pulse. The heart beats fast at times, causing the victim to say there is palpitation, and throbbing in the neck. Then the eyeballs protrude. Enlargement of the throat gland comes in every case sooner or later, the not always noticeably. Trembling of the hands is an easily noted sign. Persons with goiter are continually on edge mentally. They are nervous, irritable, depressed and liable to insomnia.

Some good rules to follow are: Avoid all excitement or irritation. Get an abundance of rest. Go to bed early, sleeping long hours and taking a mid-day nap. Sleep in a thoroly ventilated room. Eat and drink nothing that irritates the nervous system. Eat slowly and chew thoroly. Avoid foods difficult to digest. Eat little meat. Drink plenty of milk. Eat foods prepared with milk, cream or buttermilk. Avoid meat broths, and such organs as sweetbreads, liver, kidney, tripe and pluck. Eat freely of cooked fruits and vegetables and very ripe fruits. Drink fruit juices prepared from ripe fruits. Eat eggs, butter, bread, toast, rice and cereals. Drink an abundance of good water, known to be pure or distilled or boiled. Use no tobacco.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BHALEY

THE DOPE SHEET

Sometimes a guy can disregard Each rule of health, yet live to be A hale old party, tough and hard, Who plays per golf at ninety-three; And you might also do the same And still grow very old and gray. But, as the wise guys view the game, The betting is the other way.

Sometimes the loafer cops the wad And drinks the nectar of success, While he who works must dully plod A path of toil and weariness; And you, perhaps, might grab a roll Without a stroke of work, but say! You will observe that—on the whole— The betting is the other way.

There are exceptions to all rules, But when you're planning out your fate, Don't be impressed by lucky fools. Or think them wise to emulate. Some rounders laugh at Father Time, Some idlers prosper and are gay. But—here's the moral to this rhyme— The betting is the other way— (Copyright 1922)

Secret of a Good Disposition

A woman who carefully safeguards her health benefits her disposition. She will be happy and attractive to all. The world unfortunately is filled with sweet women who are unhappy because they are held back from usefulness by troubles so common among them. Fretfulness and nervousness rapidly destroy good dispositions. Sickly, all-worn-out women cannot make happy homes.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of women's health. This is clearly proven by the many letters we are continually publishing in this paper, from women who have been restored to health and happiness by its use after years of suffering. Why don't you try it?—Adv.

RICH OIL POOL IN GULF

WASHINGTON.—(United Press.)—Existence of a huge untouched oil field under the Gulf of Mexico is indicated in data just compiled by the United States Geological Survey and made public today.

Many recent reports to the hydrographic office by ship captains tell of oil bubbling up thru the water or of oil being washed to the surface by anchors. Officers have described passing ships as having "oil slicks."

The reports made public without comment as to the probable existence of a gigantic oil pool, have caused widespread speculation in navy circles as to how the oil could be brought out.

The shallow water problem would be an easy one, as oil wells are now in operation in the surf along the southern California coast, but no plan to pipe the rich fluid up from great depths has yet been devised.

Hydrographic records of the last 20 years have been compiled and the reports of numerous ship captains show a striking similarity regarding the oil spots. Year after year, these oil indications are reported in official records, mainly from an area that lies just south-east of Galveston.

Oil spots have been noted less frequently off the Delaware break-water off the middle Atlantic coast.

TODAY'S word is—CAMBRIAN.

It's pronounced—kam-bri-an, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—Welsh; something pertaining to Cambria, or Wales. It is used also to describe a certain division of one of the geological eras.

It comes from—Cambria, the Latin version of Cymra, the native name of Wales.

It's used like this—"In recent international discussions in Europe the Cambrian statecraft of Mr. Lloyd George has proved too much for the Gallic impetuosity of M. Poincare." Or: "The Cambrian division of geological time is so called because it was differentiated, or set apart, originally in Wales."

FUR SPORTS COAT FOR FALL

The fur sports coat is one of the surefire successes of the coming fashion program.

It is developed in all furs and goes to all lengths.

This one was enthusiastically received at the annual style show of the Chicago furrers.

Gray camel is the material.

The matching hat is an interesting feature.

Mrs. O. B. Selfridge held high scores in the bridge tournament Thursday at the Shawnee Country club while Mrs. George MacDonell was successful in the golf match.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a married woman, having been married but three years. My baby is about a year old. In the past few months, my health has been very poor, and my doctor, my husband and my mother prevailed upon me to go away on a visit for a while, hoping the change would help me. I went to my sister and had been there only a few weeks when my husband wrote, saying he was thru with me, and that he would send enough money each week for the baby. He is sending a very small amount, not sufficient to feed and clothe him. I am unable to work, and dependent upon my sister for a home. She has a large family, and I hate to impose upon her in this manner. What can I do to get my husband back?

YOUR letter, while stating the exact facts, is a bit vague, and it is almost impossible for an outsider to determine whether your husband had just cause for his action, or what caused him to assume his present attitude.

The first thing, however, is to try to have a more definite understanding with him, and a reconciliation, if possible. The baby needs both of you, and your home should be kept together for its sake, if at all possible.

If you are certain that your husband had no just cause for so treating you, if you have performed the duties of home-making and shown him due regard and devotion, then he has been thoroughly cruel and unprincipled, and is in no way to be excused.

Insist upon your husband supporting not only the baby, but yourself, at least until your health is restored. That is his responsibility. Do all you can to effect a reconciliation, and I am sure matters will right themselves in due time.

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a girl of seventeen, in high school, and want to get a new fall dress, one that I can wear all winter to parties and dances. Is black cotton crepe desirable, or do you advise some lighter shade?

What is practical for school wear? I am very hard on my clothes, and during the school year, they become quite a problem. Appreciating your help, I am,

ROBERTA.

There will be a good many years in your life when you can wear black, Roberta, and if I were you, I would choose some brighter shade. The new fall colors are exquisite, especially a new shade of reddish brown, called "well-flower." If you do decide on black, however, be sure it is trimmed in brighter shades. Jumper dresses, made of wool jersey or any heavy worsted, and worn with simple little white blouses, are ideal for school wear, as are the popular slip-over sweaters, when worn with pleated or plain skirts. Include several sets of dainty collars and cuffs in your school wardrobe, if you wear sweaters.

Dear Susie Smart:

Is it proper for a boy to take a ring from a girl with whom he has been keeping company, then turning her down for another girl and keeping the ring? A young friend of mine did just to me, and I am at a loss to know just what to do.

FLAPPER.

It is not good taste for a young man to take a ring from a girl, unless she is engaged to him. In your case, the only thing you can do is to address a brief courteous note to the young man, requesting your ring. If he refuses to return it, you might, of course, resort to legal action, but it is hardly advisable to do so unless the ring is a valuable one, or is one which means a great deal to you because of its history or associations.

RUFFLES

Small ruffles of Val lace are used most ingeniously this season by the smartest houses. One of the most effective places is on the wide kimono sleeves. Sometimes the cuff, of solid ruffles, reaches from the wrist to the elbows.

LININGS

Beautiful linings are a feature of the fur coats now shown for the August sales. Sometimes gold or silver brocade is used and frequently embroidery is added. For serviceable coats, very dark, sensible silks are used.

LATTICE WORK

Lattice work, of lace and of bias folds of silk seems for the moment to be a more popular trimming for lingerie than lace. It is noticed particularly on French importations.

"MARION" ORCHID

"Marion" orchid is the name of a new color that will be launched this fall. The name is a compliment to Mrs. Harding, Marion, O., being her home town.

THE RED HOUSE MYSTERY

By A. A. MILNE

From the beginning Antony had seen this answer coming, and had seen back from it. For, if Mark had been killed, it seemed such a cold-blooded killing. Was Cayley equal to it?

Bill would have said "No," because Bill wouldn't have killed anyone in cold blood himself, and because he took it for granted that other people behaved pretty much as he did. But Antony had no such illusions. Murders were done here, and had actually been done here, for there was Robert's dead body. Why not another murder?

Had Mark been in the office at all that afternoon? The only evidence (other than Cayley's, which obviously did not count) was Elsie's. Elsie was quite certain that she had heard his voice. But then Bill had said that it was a very characteristic voice—an easy voice, therefore, to imitate. If Bill could imitate it so successfully, why not Cayley?

But perhaps it had not been such a cold-blooded killing, after all. Suppose Cayley had had a quarrel with his cousin that afternoon over the girl whom they were both wooing. Suppose Cayley, in sudden passion, either purposely, meaning only to knock him down. Suppose that this had happened in the passage, say about two o'clock. Suppose Cayley, there, with the body at his feet, feeling already the rope around his neck, with his mind darting this way and that in frantic search for a way of escape; and suppose that suddenly and irrelevantly he remembers that Robert is coming to the house at three o'clock that afternoon—automatically he looks at his watch—in half an hour's time.

Antony pictured to himself Cayley in the passage, standing over the dead body of his cousin, and working it out. How could Robert be made to seem the murderer, if Robert were alive to deny it? But suppose Robert were dead too? He looks at his watch again. (Only twenty-five minutes now.) Suppose Robert were dead, too? Robert dead in the office, and Mark dead in the passage—how does that help? Madness! But if the bodies were brought together somehow—And Robert's death looked like suicide? . . . Was it possible? Madness again. Too difficult. (Only twenty minutes now.) Too difficult to arrange in twenty minutes. Can't arrange a suicide. Too difficult. . . . Only nineteen minutes.

"SEE ANYTHING?" SAID ANTONY AT LAST.

And then the sudden inspiration! Robert dead in the office, Mark's body hidden in the passage—impossible to make Robert seem the murderer, but how easy to make Mark! Robert dead and Mark missing; why, it jumped to the eye at once, Mark had killed Robert accidentally; yes, that would be more likely—and then had run away. Sudden panic. . . . (He looked at his watch again. Fifteen minutes, but plenty of time now. The thing arranges itself.)

Was that the solution, Antony wondered. It seemed to fit in with the facts as they knew them; but then, so did that other theory which he had suggested to Bill in the morning.

"Which one?" said Bill. They were sitting in the copse above the pond, from which the inspector and his fishermen had now withdrawn. Bill had listened with open mouth to Antony's theory, and save for an occasional "By Jove!" had listened in silence. "Smart man, Cayley," had been his only comment at the end.

"Which other theory?" "That Mark had killed Robert accidentally and had gone to Cayley for help, and that Cayley, having hidden him in the passage, locked the office door from the outside and hammered on it."

"Yes, but you were so dashed mysterious about that. I asked you what the point of it was, and you wouldn't say anything." He thought for a little, and then went on, "I suppose you meant that Cayley deliberately betrayed Mark, and tried to make him look like a murderer?"

"I wanted to warn you that we should probably find Mark in the passage, alive or dead."

"And now you don't think so?" "Now I think that his dead body is there."

"Meaning that Cayley went down and killed him afterward—after you had come, after the police had come?"

"Well, that's what I shrink from, Bill. It's so horribly cold-blooded. Cayley may be capable of it, but I hate to think of it."

"But, dash it all, your other way is cold-blooded enough. According to you, he goes up to the office and deliberately shoots a man with whom he has no quarrel, whom he hasn't seen for fifteen years!"

"Yes, but to save his own neck. That makes a difference. And I think that Mark's dead body is in the passage now, and has been there since, say, half-past two yesterday afternoon. And tonight Cayley is going to hide it in the pond."

Bill pulled at the moss on the ground beside him, threw away a handful or two, and said slowly, "You may be right, but it's all guess-work, you know."

Antony laughed.

"Good Lord, of course it is," he said. "And tonight we shall know if it's a good guess or a bad one."

Bill brightened up suddenly. "Tonight," he said. "I say, tonight's going to be rather fun. How do we work it?"

Antony was silent for a little. "Let's put ourselves in Cayley's place," said Antony, puffing slowly at his pipe. "He's got the body, or whatever it is, in the passage. What will he do next?"

"Come out again," said Bill helpfully. "Yes; but which end?"

Bill sat up with a start. "By Jove, you mean that he will go out at the far end by the bowling-green?"

"Don't you think so? Just imagine him walking across the lawn in full view of the house, at midnight, with a body in his arms. He can get out by the bowling-green, and then come to the pond without ever being in sight of the house at all."

"You're right. Now, what's the next thing?"

"That next thing is to mark the exact place in the pond where he drops—whatever he drops."

"So that we can fish it out again."

"If we can see what it is, we shan't want to. The police can have a go at it tomorrow. But if it's something we can't identify from a distance, then we must try and get it out. To see whether it's worth telling the police about."

"Yes," said Bill, wrinkling his forehead. "Of course, the trouble with water is that one bit of it looks pretty much like the next bit. I don't know if that had occurred to you."

"It had," smiled Antony. "Let's come and have a look at it."

They walked to the edge of the copse, and lay down there in silence, looking at the pond beneath them.

"See anything?" said Antony at last.

"What?" "The fence on the other side."

"What about it?" "Well, it's rather useful, that's all."

"Said Sherlock Holmes enigmatically," added Bill. "A moment later, his friend Watson had hurried him into the pond."

Antony laughed. "I love being Sherlocky," he said. "It's very unfair of you not to play up to me."

"Why is that fence useful, my dear Holmes?" said Bill obediently. "Because you can take a bearing on it. You see—"

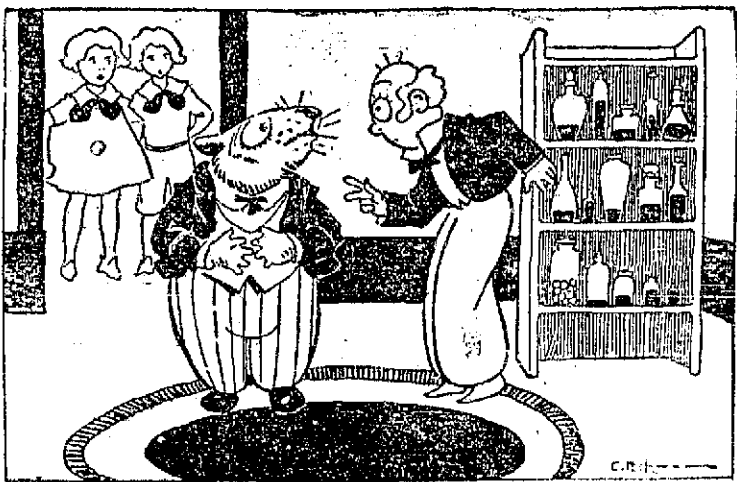

"Yes, you needn't stop to explain to me what a bearing is."

"I wasn't going to. But you're—"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

'NOTHINGWRONGATALL WITH MARK MUSKRAT

By Olive Roberts Barton

"I'm miserable, doctor," he said wretchedly. "Just miserable."

"Ting-a-ling-a-ling!" went Dr. Snuffles' telephone.

Nancy was washing the dishes and Nick was weeding the flower bed, so Dr. Snuffles, the fairy doctor, answered the phone himself. It was Mrs. Muskrat.

"Say, doctor," she said in a queer voice, "please don't let anyone know I called you up, but, Mark, my husband, is on his way to your house and, honest to goodness, there isn't a thing the matter with him!"

"That's very strange," answered Dr. Snuffles. "Why should he come to see me then?"

"Because," answered Mrs. Muskrat, "he thinks he's sick. He's got a hundred things the matter with him, he thinks, but he eats enough for 10 people, sleeps like a log, is as fat as a pig and everything."

"But he complains something awful!"

Just as Dr. Snuffles hung up the receiver the door-bell rang and, sure

Nancy was washing the dishes and Nick was weeding the flower bed, so Dr. Snuffles, the fairy doctor, answered the phone himself. It was Mrs. Muskrat.

"Say, doctor," she said in a queer voice, "please don't let anyone know I called you up, but, Mark, my husband, is on his way to your house and, honest to goodness, there isn't a thing the matter with him!"

"That's very strange," answered Dr. Snuffles. "Why should he come to see me then?"

"Because," answered Mrs. Muskrat, "he thinks he's sick. He's got a hundred things the matter with him, he thinks, but he eats enough for 10 people, sleeps like a log, is as fat as a pig and everything."

"But he complains something awful!"

Just as Dr. Snuffles hung up the receiver the door-bell rang and, sure enough, it was Mark Muskrat himself.

"I'm miserable, doctor," he said wretchedly. "Just miserable."

"Ting-a-ling-a-ling!" went Dr. Snuffles' telephone.

Win Seven
In Row

CHICAGO — By winning 7 to 2 over the Boston Braves here yesterday the Cubs moved into a tie for second place in the National league race with the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was the Bruins' seventh consecutive victory and gave them a clean sweep of the series with Boston.

GIANTS BUMP PIRATES — The Giants, again backed the Pirate machine, winning 6 to 3 and by the victory climbed still further away from the second place Cardinals who dropped their second straight to the Robins at St. Louis 8 to 7.

The McGraw band now is three and a half games to the good. Hugh McMillan twirled for the Giants and Frank Frisch saved him from a loss of several super-executed plays.

Brooklyn and the Cardinals had a close struggle, with the St. Louisans taking an eighth and ninth bid, that fell short by one run.

LEADERS WIN — St. Louis and New York, the leading American League teams both were victorious. The Yankees victory over Detroit increased Joe Bush's string of wins to twenty. The Browns after being helpless before Magidger for eight innings, solved his delivery in the ninth, kept up the attack on Francis, who relieved him, scored eight times and won 8 to 5.

The Boston Americans took 4 games from the White Sox 3 to 2 and 5 to 1. The Athletics turned back Cleveland 8 to 1. Tilly Walker accounted for his twenty-eighth home run in the game.

Hubbard hurled well against Cincinnati and scored the only run of the game in the fifth inning.

—Douglas Los, IS SERIOUS

NEW YORK—It is agreed among the baseball fraternity that loss Phil Douglas to the New York Giants will seriously interfere with chances to cop the pennant.

Douglas was the best of the Giants pitchers and one of the best in the major leagues. His loss will be blow to McGraw in his fight for pennant, but it may not be fatal.

Douglas has been "cutting up" some time and has been of no assistance to the club. He hasn't been in condition for nearly three weeks during that time the club got very well without him. Young B. Ryan has been almost as effective as Douglas was last year as a pitcher. The two may be able to pull the Giants thru the stretch to another pennant.

LIMA KIWANIS WIN AT WAPAKONETA

Jim Jolley's Kiwanis team scored an easy win over Wapakoneta yesterday afternoon at the Auglaizean. The score was 14 to 7. T. Jolley could easily have made it shutout, but eased up in the last innings.

Hoffman and Phillips did not work in the points for the Kiwanis. Dietrich was knocked out of the box and several other twirlers as by Wapak.

A game scheduled with Delph has been cancelled and Jolley announces the Kiwanis will probably play Springfield, here perhaps, August 30.

SALESMEN CALLED IN BY GARFORD

Convention Will Last Until Middle of Next Week.

OPTIMISM NOW KEYNOTE

Shortage of Workmen in Lima is Seen

Calling in the salesmen of the Garford Motor Truck Co., for a three day conference and the working out of the fall selling campaign is believed to presage a boom at the big Lima industry.

Between 25 and 30 salesmen from all parts of the United States are expected to arrive in Lima Saturday. They will be in conference with J. P. Bowman, sales manager, until the middle of next week.

In this conference, the salesmen will be imbued with the idea that the corner has been turned and next year will see the opening of a period of great prosperity for all industries. J. A. Williams, president and general manager of the plant, said Friday. No new models will be announced during the sales convention, the purpose being to speed up sales of the models which have already demonstrated their efficiency. Williams said.

Calls for workers in the city are rapidly coming from the various factories. The greatest scarcity is to be seen in the ranks of the surplus common laborers.

SUPPLY OF MACHINISTS
Owing to the railroad shopmen's strike there is at the present time a surplus of machinists in the city but most of these men will be absorbed by the labor troubles.

Working forces at the Lima Locomotive Works and the Ohio Steel Foundry are being increased gradually and many of the smaller plants in the city are operating on two shifts a day.

Many of the transient workers left Lima as soon as work became scarce and are now beginning to gradually drift back. This is taken to mean that a labor scarcity will soon be seen here.

Full time operation of all Lima plants will mean the employment of every working person in Lima today and also hundreds who will be drawn to the city by the many advantages to be found, it is believed.

SCHOOL CENTRALIZATION MUST WAIT, ARGANBRIGHT DECLARES AFTER SURVEY

Centralization of Allen county schools may have to wait a long time before it is tested out. County Superintendent C. A. Arganbright so stated Friday after a survey of the field. Business depression, especially among farmers, will operate to halt any plans along that line, he says. Closer grouping of the 10 schools in the county system which at present are divided among 22 districts will be undertaken if it is ever decided to centralize, the superintendent stated.

Funds derived from sale of material from old buildings would amount to a few hundred dollars, according to Arganbright, and bond issues of from $25,000 to $40,000 would be necessary.

There is no wholly centralized district in the county, but a few have been partly centralized.

Only one school improvement in the district is planned for the near future. Beaverdam board of education will soon let the contract for construction of a $3,000 addition. A bond issue at that amount was carried August 8.

WINS PISTOL-SHOT TITLE IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Tex. — Mrs. Grace McClellan is woman's champion pistol-shot of Texas, a state which boasts plenty of fancy pistol-shots. She entered the pistol competition at the Texas State Rifle Association's meet, at San Antonio recently and shot rings around all the men who opposed her. Her score was 273 bullseyes out of 300 shots. She used a .45 automatic gun. The medal she won at San Antonio is by no means the only one she has to her credit. Besides her skill with revolver and automatic, she is a first-class rifle-shot.

WOMAN IS VICTIM OF MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Evelyn Tamm, 38, died in a hospital early today as the result of a mysterious shooting last night on the Christopher Columbus, a Lake Michigan steamer, which carried 2,000 passengers. The vessel was off the Municipal Pier where a display of fireworks was being given in connection with the pageant of progress. An anti-aircraft gun was shooting wooden tracer bullets at another plane and it is believed one hit Mrs. Tamm in the breast.

LIQUOR CHARGE AGAINST C. J. SIMON WITHDRAWN

Charge of transporting liquor filed against C. J. Simon of the county surveyor's office, was withdrawn Friday by Chief of Police Lancker after an investigation.

The charge was preferred several days ago after a bottle of liquor was found in his automobile. He was able to satisfy police that he was not responsible for it being there.

MARRIED INSTRUCTORS NOT TO BE EMPLOYED

CHICAGO.—Cost of living and social demands are so excessive in Evanston, Ill., site of Northwestern University, that the school no longer will employ married instructors, according to Professor C. Flickinger, dean of the college of liberal arts. Northwestern salaries are equal to those paid in other cities but Evanston's cost of living and social demands are such that some of the married instructors have had to tutor during time away from two school class rooms and in some in stances wives of instructors have had to accept employment in exclusive Evanston to meet expenses.

BROKEN FUNERAL

BIG MEN GROWN ON PACIFIC COAST

Great Business Career is Reported by B. C. Forbes

FROM LABORER TO MILK KING

Operates Plants in 13 States, Employs 10,000 People

(BY B. C. FORBES)

SEATTLE, Wash., (Special).—

They grow not only big trees but big men on the Pacific. The business annals of America contain no more interesting, no more dramatic, more inspiring career than that of Elbridge A. Stuart, now head of the mammoth Carnation Milk Products Company, of Seattle and thirteen states and formerly mule teamster in New Mexico and later owner of a grocery store in El Paso in the wild days when everyone in that wilderness camp, armed with a gun, was or over his head.

Pioneers who have made their mark in the West usually had a backbone, broad shoulders, strong arms and still stronger determination, grit, courage and daring. Stuart fought his way to the top despite the fact that as a youth he was so crippled up by inflammatory rheumatism that for spells he was more than six months at a time he couldn't set foot on the ground but had to hobble around on crutches. Discouragements and dangers and experiences? Yes, he had his full share of them.

By migrating from Indiana to Kansas he got rid of his rheumatism. His first job was shoveling gravel at $1.10 a day. Next he joined a gang employed to throw rock into a river to repair a washed away dam. He had had gunpowder in his hand to learn bookkeeping, and got work as bookkeeper, timekeeper, paymaster and stockkeeper for a contractor building a section of the Santa Fe railroad. Stuart regularly paid all the other workers their wages, but didn't draw his own pay until the work was finished—and then found that there wasn't a penny left to meet his first month's salary.

After clerking in a drygoods store at Lawrence, Kansas, for several years he decided that he must strike out for himself in order to get ahead. Down in New Mexico the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe was offering $4.50 a day for a mule team and driver. Seils Brothers were disposing of all the mules they had used to transport their circus from town to town—railway cars were to be employed instead. So young Stuart journeyed many miles to buy a team for 1,200 miles he rode in the railway car which carried food for his mules.

The soft-landed clerk, now turned muleteer nearly died from the hard work, terrific heat, the poor water and the bad food. To make matters worse there was much broken sleep because of fierce raids by Indians. Stuart stuck it out however, for about a year when his knowledge of bookkeeping again won him promotion as bookkeeper for a contractor. But lawlessness became so rampant that the young man decided to quit after an outbreak one night which left two dead bodies at his tent door and from which he escaped only by lying flat on the ground.

Shortly after Stuart returned to Lawrence a friend offered to advance him and another young man $3,000 to give them a start in business. They added their own savings to this, put it all into general merchandise and headed for El Paso, Texas, then 150 miles beyond the railway connection. Stuart returned that El Paso was destined to become an important railway center, and that it did. But he couldn't find a single building and resorted to a tent for a store.

By working from daylight to dark and canvassing directly from house to house for business, Stuart and his partner prospered. After 14 years of this life he moved to Los Angeles for the benefit of his wife's health and established a large wholesale grocery business. Again he did well but the time came when he wished to enter the broader field of manufacturing.

He sold out his business and finally decided to start making evaporated milk. His first plant was a very tiny affair located 16 miles from Seattle.

He now encountered heart-breaking experiences. Farmers were afraid that "canned milk" would hurt their business; grocers refused to spend any money on this new-fangled product; consumers fought shy of it. Stuart trudged round from store to store trying to sell his milk, carrying gallons of it in his arms and offering them sample tins to give away to housewives. These early years brought nothing but discouragements and rebuffs and losses.

But Stuart had always so conducted himself that people were willing to lend him money. In business he was the fullest of confidence. Consequently he was able to carry on his struggle until his "repressible perseverance" and pluck and hard work turned the tide.

Today, 23 years after producing his first can of milk, Mr. Stuart's concern owns 38 condensation plants scattered over 13 states and two continents in Canada.

He uses 15,000,000 gallons of milk a year! He employs close to 10,000 people.

Nine out of ten people in Seattle think the same reply when I ask them who was the most interesting, the foremost business man in the community named Mr. Stuart. He finds time to many offices and responsibilities conducive to the welfare of the Pacific coast.

Great though it already is, my prediction is that Mr. Stuart's main enterprise is destined to make notable history in coming years.

STOCKS AGAIN ON UPWARD MOVE

General List Climbs, With Exception of Oils

NEW YORK.—Conspicuous strength of industrials and specialties many of which showed gains of large fractions to two points, featured the opening dealings today on the New York stock exchange. Ralls were slightly irregular and relatively inactive despite the declaration of President Stone of the railroad engineers that the railroad strike would be settled in the meetings here. Allied Chemical and Northern Pacific each broke thru to new high prices in the first fifteen minutes of trading. Chandler jumped two points and gains of a point or more were scored by Barnsdall and B. Standard Oil of California, California Petroleum and Louisville and Nashville. United States Steel common opened 3-8 higher at 103-1-4 and then rose to 103-1-2, a new high price for the year. Mexican Petroleum, Union Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern declined fractionally.

Buying of special stocks went on in an effort to distract attention from realizing sales in other directions. The general trend continued upward except in the Mexican oils which exhibited pronounced weakness. Mexican Petroleum yielded 1-2-4, Mexican Seaboard 1-2 and Pan American one point. U. S. Steel common climbed to 103-3-4 and Bethlehem A and 7 per cent preferred. Crucible and Colorado Fuel advanced in sympathy. Active bidding also was noted in domestic oils, equipments, motors, sugars and public utilities, but trading in rails continued light. Baldwin and American Power established new high prices for the year at gains of a point or more while Public Service of New Jersey and Pacific Gas and Electric also made new high records. Individual features were General Electric, Bosch Magneto, Goodrich, American Locomotive, American Sugar, DuPont and Air Reduction, all at gains of 1 to 2 points. Call money opened at 3-1-2 per cent.

The stock market today threw out to a large extent the restraint that has been imposed on recent dealings by labor troubles, and moved steadily forward to higher levels. Creation of new high records for the year by U. S. Steel common and other leaders imparted a better tone, despite the intermittent weakness in Mexican Oils. Sales approximated 675,000 shares.

The closing was irregular.

CUPID'S COURT IS WRECKED

Mail Order Matrimonial Attempt Proves Fizzle

HAMMONTON, N. J., (United Press).—Hammonton's Cupid blew up with a bang today and two 2,000 persons who applied to the Cooperative Lovers' Union for mates, will have to go out in the open market.

The wholesale attempt at mail order matrimony fizzled when Mrs. Helen Long Rodgers, the judge, announced she was thru (or her husband made the announcement for her) and the jury went fishing.

Thomas Dekler, secretary of the union and originator of the movement, frankly didn't know how it was all going to come out.

Furthermore, he Dekler did secure another jury, he would probably have to hold his sessions in a tent. For Henry J. Cutshaw, manager of the Palace Theater, where "Cupid's Court" was held for two days stated "There will be no more Cupid's Court damfoolishness in my theater except over my dead body."

Thomas Dekler, promoter of the "Cupid's Court" in a statement issued at noon, said the court would be resumed Thursday. He did not state whether a new judge and jury had been chosen.

TAYLOR FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. George Taylor Jr., who was drowned in Opa, N. Y., will be held Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Woodlawn cemetery. Mrs. Taylor was the wife of Rev. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor Sr., W. Market-st.

WHEAT DECLINES TWO CENTS

Prospect of Rail Strike's End Has Bearish Effect

CHICAGO.—Grain prices turned downward in the early dealings, fear of damage to the corn crop having been relieved by cool weather and by showers in Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois. The wheat market was also bearishly influenced by the fact that Liverpool quotations failed to respond to yesterday's advance in America. Estimates were current too that the wheat crop in the three western Canadian provinces was 27,000,000 bushels larger than was indicated by the latest official figures. The opening, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2-1 lower, with Sept. 1-10-2 to 1-2-1-3-4 and Dec. 1-10-4 to 1-1-1-2, was followed by a material decline all around.

Breaking of the drought and of the heat wave eased the market for corn and oats. After opening 1-8 to 1-10-2, the corn market continued to descend. Oats started 3-8 lower, to 3-1-2, and later held near the initial range.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened the provision market. Prospect of a quick settlement of the rail strike was given a bearish construction on most quarters as being likely to lead to increased wheat receipts. The close was unsettled 2-1-4 to 2-3-4 net lower, with Sept. 1-10-5-8 to 1-10-3-4 and Dec. 1-01-3-4 to 1-01-7-8.

Country offerings of corn to arrive were fairly large early, but sellers withdrew later as prices declined. The close was weak, 2-1-8 to 2-3-8 net lower with Sept. 5-9.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Jobey Kaufman relates a and story. He says:

"A friend of mine was asked to remain for the night with the people he had been calling on earlier in the evening, which he did."

"In the morning, upon awaking, he discovered that the shirt he had worn the previous evening had been picked up with the family washing, which was being laundered that day, which left him shirtless. Consequently he had to remain in the house until the laundress had washed and ironed his shirt before he could go to work."

"Moral: A place for everything, and everything in its place."

Charley Shelley records a series of linked incidents which began with his trip into the country to see how the grape crop was progressing. That was Saturday.

On his way home he had to drive behind a yeast company automobile for some distance, and finally a grocer's wagon appeared with a large sack of sugar as he arrived at his home.

Rob Shaw, theater man noted that a juggler at his theater was rather clumsy, but supremely confident and unembarrassed.

"I'm used to public life," explained the juggler. "I used to cook wheat cakes in the front window of a restaurant."

"I went down town with a friend, a plump woman," reports Mrs. E. C. Wingling, State-st.

"I was walking behind her thru one of the department stores, when she stopped advancing, and shifted first to the right, then to the left, as she was trying to let someone pass her who was making the same movement."

"I saw no one coming toward us. What she saw was her own reflection in a mirror but she didn't discover that before she said, in a very impatient voice, 'Well, for heaven's sake, madam, which way do you want to go?'"

W. T. Feely, American Bank building, advertised for a stenographer. One applicant answered all questions in a sweet, baby voice. He was about to hire her when she asked him if he was an attorney, adding that she never would work for an attorney again. Her last employer, she said, was an attorney. He dictated a petition addressed to "This honorable court," she said, and she made it "Disbonorable court."

UNDERGROUND ANTENNA FOR RADIO GROWING

RADIO BEACH DANCING POPULAR

THE day of the aerial antenna for receiving is gone.

This is the conclusion of radio engineers who have been conducting experiments for the Postoffice Department to attempt to eliminate static interference in receiving. The experiments have been in charge of James C. Edgerton, superintendent of the radio section.

Instead of the aerial antenna, however, Edgerton has found three different methods of receiving that brought good results. These are:

1. Large vertical outside multiple turn loops.
2. Underground horizontal buried loops.
3. Underground antennae.

The Postoffice Department statement explaining the use of these forms of receiving antennae, says:

"The best results are obtained with the underground antenna when it can be laid in damp soil with a straight away of 1000 feet. The horizontal buried loop is more or less of a new departure and has been very successful when well insulated and buried in water or very damp earth."

Even while lightning was striking, the report adds, communication was carried on with the use of the underground antenna.

Same Radio Signal, Crossing Globe, Travels Both East and West

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

WASHINGTON, August 17.—The American Foremost Radio Authority (A.F.R.A.) has been conducting experiments for the Postoffice Department to attempt to eliminate static interference in receiving. The experiments have been in charge of James C. Edgerton, superintendent of the radio section.

Instead of the aerial antenna, however, Edgerton has found three different methods of receiving that brought good results. These are:

1. Large vertical outside multiple turn loops.
2. Underground horizontal buried loops.
3. Underground antennae.

existing over the two paths, and due to the variation in absorption which may take place over the land, even at the antipodes, waves from both ways could scarcely be expected to arrive exactly on time to the ten-thousandth part of a second.

In Beverage's observations, signals from Hawaii received from the west were stronger during one part of the day. Those from the east were stronger at another time. Only for short times were they equal in strength.

INTERFERENCE

At these times, if both were received simultaneously, an interference took place between them. First their energies would add. A fraction of a second later they would be neutralizing each other. The result was an undecipherable series of signals.

Had it been possible to move the station a few hundreds of miles further east this effect would have been absent, and the energies from both ways around would actually have fully reinforced each other during certain periods in the day.

Radio has been developed to such an improved state that a set can be brought to the beach and other similar places without trouble. It has made beach dancing popular. No aerial or ground connection is necessary with the radio set shown. It can be moved about while it is receiving music for the dancers.

RADIO PRIMER

JAMMING—Introduction of a wave of very high decrement that cannot be readily turned out in ordinary receiving apparatus. The result is that other signals which an operator is trying to receive are drowned out, or "jammed," by the outlay wave.
